Why Altlaw?

Altlaw are the UK's leading independent electronic discovery service provider, offering specialised products and services, coupled with proven and defensible techniques and expertise.

Founded in 2004, Altlaw has been working with law firms and in-house counsel to dramatically speed up the process of identifying, reviewing and managing relevant data files.

Our focus is to provide techniques and processes which allow our clients to make better-informed decisions at the earliest possible stage in the litigation procedure.

Our mission is to help our clients save money by reducing document populations and making review more efficient

Altlaw partners with industry-leading technologies which enable us to process and host huge volumes of data. Our clients have access to three recognised and renowned industry leading litigation platforms.
